

Application for admission to a vocational high school in Bremen

Would you like to apply for admission to a vocational high school in the municipality of Bremen?

Competent Department

- Die Senatorin für Kinder und Bildung | Referat 22 - Ministerielle und schulbetriebliche Aufgaben, Berufsbildende Schulen

Basic information

The upper secondary school of vocational schools is called Berufliches Gymnasium (BGy). It concludes with the Abitur (general university entrance qualification). This allows you to take up any course of study or vocational training.

The profiles of vocational high schools are based on specific fields of study and occupation: Technical practice as well as fundamentals in business and computer science play an important role in each profile. As a result, they offer particularly good preparation for degree programs and apprenticeships with such emphases. This also means that the lessons are not only about content, but also about learning methods, teamwork and project management, for example. In addition, all students can complete an internship in the upper school.

To apply for admission, please contact the relevant vocational school.

You can find the contact details of the relevant vocational school in the Bremen Authority Finder under the link <https://www.service.bremen.de/behoerden-1467>.
