

Professional recognition

Do you want to have your professional qualification from abroad recognized? Find out more here.

Anyone who has acquired their professional qualification abroad can have the equivalence of their qualification with a German profession or qualification checked. This is necessary in order to be allowed to practice the profession you have learned in Germany. The equivalence of the qualifications obtained abroad with a German reference qualification, such as a Chamber of Industry and Commerce profession, is checked. The Professional Qualifications Assessment Act (BQFG) serves as the legal framework for this.
