Basic information

International driving licenses are required for temporary stays in a country that is not part of the EU.

The international driving license is only a translation of the national EU driving license and therefore only valid in conjunction with it.

Requirements

- Possession of a valid EU driving license or
- Possession of a valid foreign permit to drive motor vehicles in accordance with § 29 of the Driving Permit Ordinance (FeV).
- Residence
 - in Bremen or
 - in a state that has not ratified the Convention on Road Traffic of 08.11.1968.

Important: This is a service under municipal jurisdiction. Therefore, you can only visit a service that is located in your place of residence.

What documents do I need?

- Identity card or passport
- Driving licence
- Passport photo

according to the photo sample board

- In addition, an index card copy from the driving licence office that issued the current driving licence, if the driving licence was issued outside Bremen before 1999
- Important information about the photo booths in all offices of the Citizen's Office:

- The machines are operated by outside companies and often do not work. It cannot be guaranteed that passport photos can be taken on site. We advise you to bring passport photos to the appointment.

Procedure

Insofar as an EU card driver's license must first be issued for the issuance of the International Driver's License, at least 2-3 working days are required for this - even in a rush procedure.

If the driver's license was issued outside of Bremen before 1999, a record card copy of the driver's license office that issued the current driver's license is required.

More information

When traveling to some Eastern European countries, an international driver's license must still be carried.

For trips to non-European countries, it is generally recommended, and often even mandatory (such as in many states of the USA, Canada or Australia), to carry it with you.

It is recommended to inquire about the regulations of the respective state.

If the applicant still has the old gray or pink driver's license, the old driver's license must be exchanged for a (new) EU driver's license in credit card format when the international driver's license is issued.

International driving licenses issued in Germany for German drivers are not valid in the Federal Republic of Germany.

Current information on which country requires an international driver's license can also be obtained from the automobile clubs.
